

HINT HALL-MILLS BODIES MUTILATED AFTER BURIAL

"THIRTY" IS WRITTEN FOR GEO. LYMAN

Former Veteran Amboy Editor Died in West Monday

Word was received in this county today of the death of George Lyman, former editor of the Amboy Journal and a resident of Lee county in the vicinity of Amboy and Lee Center for a half century. Mr. Lyman passed away at his home in Claremont, Cal., Monday, death resulting from a general breakdown and a broken heart, the result of the loss of his two sons within the past six months. He leaves his aged wife, who is also in a critical condition. Burial will take place in Claremont.

The former editor of the Amboy Journal, was well known in Dixon and throughout Lee county. He was active in the affairs of the Republican party and was a gifted writer. The Lee county history gives the following account of his life:

Among the men of force, experience and capacity who have for many years past influenced the trend of general development in Lee county was numbered George Alexander Lyman, who in 1883 and for several years thereafter, was the owner and editor of the Amboy Journal, which by reason of his excellent journalistic work he made powerful as a director of public thought and opinion. His interests extended to many other fields, touching closely the political and social life of the community, and his name came to be regarded as synonymous with advancement and reform. He was born in Winchester, New Hampshire, June 26, 1838, and was the son of Tertius Alexander and Sarah Pierce (Coddling) Lyman, the former a carpenter and joiner and housebuilder. Mr. Lyman, Sr. came to Illinois in 1856 and died at Amboy, February 5, 1900, at the age of 62.

Descendant of King
The Lyman family was very ancient and could be traced back to the office of English records to Wodin, king of North Europe in the third century, about 225 A. D. The line included such illustrious representatives as Hengist, King of Saxons, A. D. 434; Cedric, the first king of West Saxons, who died A. D. 534; Alfred the Great, king of England, A. D. 871; William the Conqueror, A. D. 1066; Lady Isabella de Varnaudis; Robert, second earl of Leicester; Hugh Capet, king of France A. D. 987; Charlemagne, emperor of the West; Saler de Quincey, earl of Winchester, one of the 25 barons that stood surety for the observance of the Magna Charta by King John at Runnymede, A. D. 1215.

The American progenitor, Richard Lyman, who was born in High Ongar, England, in 1580 and who emigrated to America in August 1631. He landed at Boston, November 11 and became a settler in Charlestown. On October 15, 1635, he went with a party of about a hundred persons and became one of the first settlers of Hartford, Conn., and one of the original proprietors of the town. He died in August, 1641, and his name is inscribed on a stone column standing in the rear of the Center church of Hartford erected in memory of the first settlers of the city. His son Richard Lyman II, was born in England in 1617 and came to Northampton, Mass. in 1655 and died there in 1662. His grandson Joshua Lyman served upward of fourteen years in the Colonial wars, holding the commission of lieutenant in the British army. He married Miss Sarah Norton and their son Capt. Seth Lyman, served six years in the Revolutionary War. Captain Seth Lyman's son Tertius Lyman, was also a member of the Continental Army during the last two years of the war. He had one son, Tertius Alexander Lyman, father

MERGER OF BURLINGTON, NO. PACIFIC AND GREAT NORTHERN RAILROADS TO BE CONSUMMATED

New York, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Consolidation of the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific and the Burlington railroads with an eventual extension into California is forecast, says the Herald-Tribune today in a statement made by Arthur Curtiss James at St. Paul.

Such a consolidation would embrace more than 28,000 miles of line with a total capitalization of $1,500,000,000. The newspaper says that in reply to a question of the representative of Dow Jones & Co., Mr. Curtiss said:

"The Burlington has been using the Denver & Rio Grande and the Western Pacific for years to make a connection with San Francisco. There is no need for any more extension in

CHURCH SERVICE AND DOUBLE HEADER FOOTBALL GAME ONLY CELEBRATION HERE TOMORROW

Banks and County and City Offices to Close Entire Day

In commemoration of the signing of the Armistice which brought the World War to an end eight years ago tomorrow, it was announced today that the stores of Dixon will uniformly close between 10 and 11 o'clock in the morning to allow all to attend the special services which will be held under the auspices of the American Legion and other patriotic societies of the city at the Methodist church—this service being the only celebration of the day planned for Dixon.

However the banks, city and county offices and the divisional office of the State Department of Highways and the Dixon Public Library will observe the day as a complete holiday, being closed for the entire day.

Two Football Games
In the afternoon sport lovers and high school students will have a holiday attraction in the form of a double header football game at the north side athletic field, starting at 1:15 o'clock, when the Dixon high school lightweights will meet the community parochial high school team of Sterling, this battle to be followed by the "big" local game of the season—between Amboy and Dixon high schools.

In the evening the American Legion will co-operate with the Knights of Columbus in a big dance at Downing Hall, in connection with the Fall Festival being conducted this week by the Knights.

Amboy stores will declare a half holiday in the afternoon and hundreds of the people of that city are expected to come to Dixon to attend the football game.

Polo Celebration
The Polo post is planning a big celebration. It is appropriate that the events of the day start with a memorial service at 11 o'clock on the high school lawn, at which time all will stand at attention, facing east, for a period of one minute.

A torchlight parade at 7 o'clock will open the evening's program, followed by the polo game.

250 ELGINITES TO COME WITH TEAM SUNDAY

Big Crowd Expected to Witness Grudge Game in Dixon

Elgin expects to bring about 250 fans to Dixon Sunday for the "grudge" game to be played between the Legion football teams of Clinton and Elgin. This was the word which was received from Elgin at noon today and with favorable weather this number will be added to materially from the Kane county city.

In addition to Schofield, Austin, Whitcombe and Vaughan, it was made known today that Shous would be another Dixon recruit who would be seen in action with Elgin Sunday. Vaughan and Schofield will doubtless work in the backfield, while the others will fill in on the line. Promoter Wilhelm has received several requests for reserved spaces for the parking of cars at Sunday's game and today announced that parking space would be marked off along the north side of the field. It is expected that about 40 cars can be accommodated in this manner and the first applications received will receive their pick of the choicest spaces. Reservation of parking space may be made by telephoning X1069.

Arrested Here Tuesday for Aurora Officials

H. F. Hampton was arrested here yesterday afternoon and last evening was turned over to Officer Walters of the Aurora police department and taken back to that city. Hampton was wanted in Aurora on a charge of larceny as bailie.

SALTIS, KONCIL ACQUITTED LAST NIGHT OF CHARGE

Alleged Gangsters Held Not Guilty of Murder of Bootlegger

Chicago, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The jury in the first trial in connection with the slayings that this year have decimated Chicago's liquor gangs late last night acquitted Joe Saltis and Frank Koncil of the murder of John Foley, bootlegger, who was shot down three months ago.

The jury deliberated five hours over evidence, which the state termed "the most certain ever collected in a gang murder," before returning the verdict, which the prosecution had demanded be either for the death penalty or freedom.

Judge Miller, presiding, was frankly surprised at the findings and asserted the "evidence warranted a verdict of guilty" and indicated he might undertake an investigation of the work of the jury which it had been hinted during the trial, was being influenced.

Dozens of men have been held by police in connection with the various gang shootings, in one of which Assistant State's Attorney McSwiggan was a victim, but Saltis and Koncil were the first persons ordered to trial before a jury.

Des Moines Officer is Here for Prisoners
Officer Charles Hamilton of the Des Moines, Iowa, police department arrived in Dixon last evening and departed this morning with T. C. Raymond, Iowa National Guard officer, and J. J. Wilby, both of Des Moines.

The pair were taken in custody by Chief Van Bibber and Officer Pomeroy Monday with a Velle touring car in their possession, which had been reported as stolen from Des Moines. A 45 calibre automatic revolver and a stock of ammunition, which Raymond claimed as his property, were found in a pocket of the car. The officer drove back with his two prisoners this morning, both having waived their extradition papers.

Mrs. Emma Pinkney Furry Dies in N. Y.
A clipping from a Peoria paper tells of the death of Mrs. Emma Pinkney Furry, formerly of Dixon, in New York city recently. The Peoria item gives no details of her death, but states that her brother, A. W. Pinkney, had left for the metropolis to return with her body for interment in Peoria. Mrs. Furry had many friends in Dixon, who will be pained to learn of her passing.

Mrs. Rachael Schick Died Tuesday Night
Mrs. Rachael Schick died at her home in Prairieville Tuesday evening after an illness of some duration. No arrangements for the funeral had been made today, pending the arrival of her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Mason, of Colorado Springs, Colo. Mrs. Schick, whose obituary will be published later, also leaves in her home, her son, R. D. Hotchkiss.

FIFTEEN DIE IN TORNADO IN MARYLAND

Eleven Children Were Among Victims of Storm Tuesday

LaPlata, Maryland, Nov. 10.—(AP)—This little town of 500 stooped in sorrow today to take up again the usually placid threads of its existence which were sheared suddenly yesterday afternoon by the wrath of a tornado that wrecked havoc and destruction along a path at times 500 yards wide through a portion of southern Maryland, killing 15 and injuring four more at Cedarville, 15 miles northeast of here.

The disturbance swooped and twisted intermittently but concentrated its fury upon the school house here, where 61 pupils, teachers and attendants were gathered. Eleven of the children were killed and most of them injured when the walls of the building were seized and flung flat.

At least a dozen other farm houses in the path were leveled and damage was estimated at thousands of dollars. The loss of life was small in comparison to the strength and power of the disturbance, because it passed through sparsely settled regions. The school house was the only place in the region where any appreciable number of persons was gathered.

Straw Quarter of Mile
The population of the town gathered at the knoll where the school had stood, its contents, human and inanimate strewn over a radius of more than a quarter of a mile.

Some of the children had been taken to at least 750 feet. Other bodies were impaled against some tree in mute evidence of the storm's devastation.

There had been, according to Miss Ethel Graves, teacher of the elementary class, no warning and no time to anticipate or avoid the shock.

After the storm struck Miss Mary Carpenter, telephone operator got into communication with Washington and obtained medical assistance. Most of the dangerously injured were transferred to Washington hospitals where subsequently four of them, children, died.

(Telegraph Special Service)
Franklin Grove, Nov. 10.—The funeral of George McGrover, Franklin Grove World War veteran, who died recently at a government sanitarium in Kentucky, will be held at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. William Kepler of this place, at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Obituary of the deceased will be published later.

DIXON AND AMBOY GRID BATTLE HERE TOMORROW AFTERNOON WILL BE ONE OF SEASON'S FEATURES

Having recovered from the humiliating defeat administered by the Rochelle high school football team last Saturday in the presence of tomorrow's opponents, the Dixon high school heavyweight crew is in readiness for the Armistice day battle to be staged with the Amboy township high school squad at the north side athletic field tomorrow afternoon.

There are no cripples on the list, although some of the gridlers received some hard knocks in Saturday's affair, but these have fairly well healed up.

The "pony" squad will start the bill with a bang, with the St. Mary's parochial school of Sterling furnishing the opposition. The Ponies have been out of action for the past three weeks and are on their tip toes for the opening whistle. Weather conditions have been adverse to field practice this week, neither of the teams getting out Monday night.

Last evening light scrimmage was the order and both squads will polish off the rough edges this evening with light work.

Bitter Battle Likely
The Dixon Heavies will meet Coach Dominetti's Amboy crew and to one who has seen both teams in action several times this fall, the indications point to a bitter battle. Dixon will have a hard time stopping Amboy's backfield speed combination. In comparison, Dixon has a slight edge in weight in the line, but speed in the Amboy back field will be hard to overcome. Byers, Plach, Kuhn and Jewett form a combination that will keep Coach Dominetti's men guessing. This quartet would have a hidden ball trick that would do justice to some of the famous Penn plays, and they have developed it to a point where it can be depended on for a ground game.

It is quite probable that Dixon will center its assault on the left wing of the Amboy line, which has shown a decided weakness this season. The local fans will welcome the news announcing the return of Kennedy to the back field, after his absence for several weeks with an injury to his back. Kennedy wanted to get a chance in the Rochelle game but was saved for the Armistice day attraction.

The first game will be called promptly at 1:15 tomorrow afternoon when the Heaviest divisions will mix. The main attraction to be furnished by Dixon and Amboy will follow immediately after. Amboy mercenaries will declare a half holiday in order to assist their team in their attempt to win from Dixon. Paul Furr of DeKalb will referee the main game with Ted Davenport of Rock Island officiating as umpire. In the lightweight division, the officials will reverse their positions and Milton Vaughan will handle the stakes on the line.

WILD RIDE ON ROUTE 2 LANDS NELSON MEXICAN TRACK WORKER BEHIND BARS IN CO. JAIL

Buella Flores, Mexican track worker, employed in the Northwestern yards at Nelson, is in the county jail again. Flores was released from custody only a few weeks ago after serving a sentence for possession and transporting intoxicating liquor. On that occasion, he called Sheriff Risley to the west end of the city and asked for a ride. He was accommodated and taken to the county jail where it was found that he carried two bottles of liquor on his person and another cello inside.

Flores' latest scrapbook consisted of county court today.

MERCURY DROPS TO 15 DEGREES DURING NIGHT

Cold Wave is Moving Eastward: Moderation Promised

The continuation of winter's first, and unexpected, visit to this community has a decidedly repressive effect on the mercury in the government temperature register at the Shuck & Bates grocery, Lincoln Way and Upham Place, for during last night a low temperature of 15 degrees above zero was registered. And it moderated but slightly during the day.

WAVE MOVES EASTWARD
Chicago, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The midwest's cold wave moved toward the Atlantic seaboard today on winds that swooped down from the western Canadian plains country to touch the Texas Panhandle and leave snow tracks across the corn belt.

Low temperatures and snow and chilling rains followed the winds which assumed gale force at times and the mercury hovered uncomfortably close to the freezing point.

Cloudy skies brought slightly rising temperatures to the westward with promise of warmer weather generally by tonight or tomorrow, but the cold and snow flurries hung on over the eastern end of the corn belt.

The government forecast was for unsettled weather and more snow fall in the north and middle west, while the storm center pursued a north-easterly course from the southwest to Ontario.

Season for Hunting of Rabbits Opened Today

The first day of the rabbit hunting season was ushered in with cold weather this morning. Today not only marks the opening of the rabbit season in the northern zone but quail, pheasants and prairie chickens as well. The daily limit on rabbits is 15; on quail, 12; prairie chickens, 8 and on pheasants, only the cock birds can be taken and but two of these in a single day.

Song Writer Visitor in Dixon this Week

William B. Johns of New York was in Dixon this week and a caller at The Telegraph office. Mr. Johns, song writer, composed the beautiful selection "Thinking," which Wm. Forley, organist at Dixon Theater and the Dixon Theater orchestra, with Mr. Westgate, leader, played some time ago, much to the delight of the many patrons of the theater. Mr. Johns has written a new selection entitled, "The West Point Cadets," which will be played at the Dixon Theater on Nov. 24th and 25th. The selection, "The West Point Cadets," has been dedicated to the West Point Cadets and on Thanksgiving Day at the Army and Navy game in Chicago will be played by the band and given by Mr. Johns in person to the Cadets.

Optometrists Met in Dixon Tuesday Eve

The Northern Illinois Optometrists association met last evening at the Nachusa Tavern in their regular monthly meeting. The cold weather kept away several of the delegations which were expected from Rockford, DeKalb and Kewanee, but this did not hamper the interest among those who did attend. Following the dinner, a business meeting was held and it was practically decided to hold all of the remaining meetings of the year in Dixon at the Tavern, owing to the central location. Dr. John Barrett of Freeport was the speaker and gave a very interesting lecture on the subject "Convergence."

Kelly Quits Police to Become Fireman

At last evening's session of the city council the resignation of David Kelly, who has served as merchant police officer for the past two years, was submitted by Commissioner Charles E. Miller who moved its acceptance. Peter Kelly was appointed to fill the vacancy and has assumed his duties. The former merchant police officer was reported to Fire Chief Thomas Coffey as a member of the fire department.

FIVE CHICAGO AUTO THIEVES CAPTURED HERE LAST EVENING IN STOLEN WHEATON MACHINE

Chief VanBibber and Officer Jones Nab Fleeing Thugs
Five Chicago bandits are in the Dixon city jail awaiting the arrival of officers from Wheaton who are expected to arrive in Dixon late this afternoon. The party was halted at the traffic light at Seventh street and Galena avenue last night about 8:30 by Chief J. D. Van Bibber and Officer Harry Jones, as they entered the city in a 1926 Nash sedan, which was stolen from Wheaton yesterday afternoon.

At the police station all of the bandits gave their ages as 17 years and appear on the police records as James Naples, driver of the car, who claims he has no home; Fred Koepke, 2831 Farrell street; Leo Lydich, 2842 Quinn street; Frank Formilla, 2827 Farrell street and Salvatore Demma, 2323 Lowe street. The car had just pulled up to the corner to stop for the traffic light when the officers placed the youths under arrest.

A short time before, Chief Van Bibber had received word from Chief Hodges of Rochelle, stating that the men had stopped at a Creston garage to have repairs made on the car. When this work was completed, one of the men took a hammer and broke the lock on the spare tire, which they gave the garage proprietor in payment for his services. Some time afterward the garage owner notified the Rochelle police but before Chief Hodges was able to station his officers the car had been sped through Rochelle, west toward Dixon on the Lincoln Highway. The car bore Illinois license plates which were issued to Winifred G. Kanoch of Naperville. This morning it was learned that the car belonged to the assistant state's attorney of DuPage county, who upon returning to his office in the court house at Wheaton yesterday afternoon, parked the machine beside the county jail.

The occupants told several conflicting stories, all claiming that they were heading toward Iowa in search of employment.

FIRST PASSENGER FLIGHT, CHICAGO TO DALLAS BEGUN

Big Plane Left Mail Field in Chicago this Morning

Chicago, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The first trial passenger flight from Chicago to Dallas, Texas, started today when the National Air Transport's great triple motored plane departed from air mail field.

Col. Paul Henderson, general manager of the National Air Transport, Inc., who recently completed a contract with the American Railway Express of express between New York, Chicago and Dallas, was accompanied by six passengers. Col. Henderson said "passenger carrying by air will come next."

In inaugurating the trial carriage of passengers, the company plans continuation of trial flight to determine whether patronage will justify regular passenger service.

BURIAL WITH HASTE AFTER DEATH, CLAIM

Prosecutor Will Call "Pig Woman" Despite the Physicians

BULLETIN
Somerville, N. J., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Justice Parker, presiding at the Hall-Mills murder trial announced this afternoon that no session of the trial would be held tomorrow, Armistice Day.

Somerville, N. J., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Evidence was offered by the state in the Hall-Mills case today manifestly intended to show that the bodies of Rev. Edward Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills were buried with almost precipitate haste.

A physician who performed the first of three autopsies testified that his examination was made two weeks after the burial of Mrs. Mills, and another physician said that the only postmortem wound found on the slain woman's body resulted from an examination revealing that she was not to become a mother.

Intimates Tampering.
Dr. Rudolph Hegman, who performed the first autopsy, told of his examination and gave his explanation of the bullet wounds. Dr. Hegman was not able to say whether the tongue, larynx and upper portion of the wind pipe, missing when Dr. Schultze performed an autopsy last month, were present at his examination in 1922. Permitted by the court to give an opinion, he said he thought these organs were present.

Dr. E. I. Cronk said that the bodies were buried without an autopsy, the post mortem examination having been confined to the determination of Mrs. Mills' health before she was killed.

Reliability as evidence of exploded pistol shells, which the state has produced as having been found at the scene of the slayings, also was attacked by Case in his cross examination.

Hits States Evidence
Case also used Trotten in an effort to give a blow to the state's contention that Mrs. Jane Gibson, star witness, had ridden her mule to the Phillips farm the night of the slaying. Trotten said the ground was "hard and dry" at the scene of the crime when he visited it two days after the minister and the choir singing.

Totten told of "grilling" Willie Stevens. He said: "After having been questioned at the court house Willie asked me 'do you think they suspect me?' 'Why do you ask that?' I said. Just then, photographers rushed up and I didn't press the question."

To Call "Pig Woman"
Special Prosecutor Simpson plans to have Mrs. Jane Gibson testify either Friday or Saturday, regardless of any protests doctors attending her may make.

"I am told that the condition of Mrs. Gibson is improving," he said. "If she tells me she is feeling well enough to go on the stand, I will have her brought to Somerville. I will do this regardless of what doctors say."

Mrs. Gibson, state's star witness, was removed to Jersey City Hospital from a Somerville institution Sunday over the protest of physicians.

Dr. Otto H. Schulze of New York City has testified as to the result of autopsies which he performed on the bodies of the Rev. Mr. Edward Wheelwright and Mrs. Eleanor Mills exhumed last month after four years in their graves.

EVIDENCE OF FRAUD IN PENNA. PRIMARY DISCOVERED BY COURT WHO HOLDS THREE NEGRO JUDGES

Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Evidence of fraud has been discovered at least in one precinct in last week's election, when unofficial returns showed zeros for William B. Wilson, democratic candidate for United States Senator, in more than a score of the city's 1500 precincts, in the opinion of the election court.

Judge J. G. Gordon so asserted in holding three election officials of the division, 38th ward, in $1,000 bail each for the grand jury when a recount of the ballots in their division revealed that Mr. Wilson had received five votes and that other democratic candidates also had been voted for.

In holding the three officials, all negroes, Judge Gordon told them it was apparent that their return was "false" and that they were "utterly indifferent" to the rights of voters. "I deem it my duty," he added, "to hold you for the grand jury on a charge of conspiracy to make a false return and making a false return."

Discrepancies were found in the unofficial count in several of the other "zero" divisions. Other errors were ordered corrected after the election officials had been convinced the court's mistakes had been unintentional.

The official tabulation was expected to be completed today.

OLD MASTERS

Happy the man whose wish and cure
A few paternal acres bound,
Content to breath his native air
In his own ground.

Whose herds with milk, whose fields
With bread,
Whose flocks supply him with attire,
Whose trees in summer yield him
shade,
In winter fire.

Bliss who can unconcern'dly find Hours, days and years slide soft away
In health of body, peace of mind,
Quiet by day.

Sound sleep by night; study and ease
Together mixt, sweet recreation,
And innocence, which most does
please,
With meditation.

Thus let me live, unseen, unknown;
Thus unlamented let me die;
Steal from the world, and not a stone
Tell where I lie.

"BEBE" HAS FINALLY
SUCCEEDED TO CUPID—

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Charlie Paddock, Olympic middle distance and sprint champion, confirmed rumors of his engagement to Babe Daniels, film star, here yesterday.

In response to questions concerning the reports of his engagement to Miss Daniels, he admitted the truth, and said:

"We did not want to make it public because we both have our careers in the movies and wanted to make successes of them."

Menus for the Family

BY SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST—Orange juice, apples, pancakes, syrup, milk, coffee, real, thin cream, pork sausage, fried.
LUNCHEON—Cream of mushroom soup, croquettes, jellied tomato salad, rye bread, rice pudding with raisins, milk, tea.

DINNER—Stewed chicken with rice, creamed potatoes, stuffed celery and endive salad, bran rolls, milk, coffee, pumpkin pie.

This menu is planned for a week-end when the whole family are at home for all their meals. "Big brother" will delight in the breakfast of sausage and pancakes with apples. This same combination makes a very good luncheon occasionally. No potatoes are suggested in the dinner menu. Rice is served as a substitute.

Children under six years of age should not indulge in the fried apples but older persons will find them so much to their liking that the recipe follows.

Fried Apples

Four large tart apples, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 tablespoons sugar, 3 tablespoons butter.

Wash apples and wipe dry. Remove cores but do not pare. Cut in quarter-inch slices. Melt butter in frying pan, add apples, cover and cook over a hot fire for several minutes. Reduce heat, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon and cook until apples are tender and brown.

If the apples are pared they will fall apart during the cooking. Close watching and a low fire are necessary because the apples will burn quickly after the sugar is added.

Tart apples are the best for frying but "subacid" fruit can be used if generously sprinkled with lemon juice.

Curran-Merrifield Wedding Nov. 3rd

A wedding of much interest to Dixon relatives and friends was solemnized on Wednesday, Nov. 3rd, in Detroit, Mich. At this time, Miss Hazel Irene Curran, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Curran, 1032 Highland avenue, and Jack B. Merrifield of London, Ontario, were married.

The bride, a charming and popular Dixon girl, graduated from the D. H. S. with the class of '25 and was employed as stenographer at the American Body and Cab Co., of this city, for the past year.

Mr. Merrifield, who was employed for some time as electrical engineer at the I. N. U. plant in Dixon, is now in business in London, Ont. He is a most progressive and admirable young man who made many friends here during his residence in Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Merrifield will reside in London, Ontario, and are extended the congratulations and best wishes of scores of friends, for their future happiness.

DISTRICT PEP MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT

On Friday night in I. O. O. F. Hall, Minnie Bell Rebekah lodge will meet and a good attendance is desired. On this evening the District Pep meeting for the Rebekahs will be held and all the lodges in the district will send delegations. An inspiring and entertaining evening is anticipated.

W. O. M. L. Elected Officers Dist. Meeting

The District Frolic for the Moose and Auxiliary was held Sunday in Moose hall in this city, the list of Moose elected being listed in last evening's paper. The Women of Mooseheart Legion for the District who were elected at the meeting were:

Senior Regent—Mrs. E. Blecker, Rockford, Ill.
Junior Regent—Mrs. F. Clark, Freeport, Ill.
Past Regent—Mrs. D. Yegger, Sterling, Ill.

Chaplain—Mrs. B. Behrends, Dixon, Ill.
Recorder—Mrs. E. E. Broughton, Freeport, Ill.

Treasurer—Mrs. M. Chas. Marsh, Rockford, Ill.
Guide—Mrs. R. L. Wilhelm, Dixon, Ill.

Assistant Guide—Mrs. N. Fifield, Rockford, Ill.
Sentinel—Mrs. F. Rogers, Sterling, Ill.

Argus—Mrs. J. Early, Belvidere, Ill.

In the evening an entertainment was given to which all members of the Moose and their families were invited.

Great North Moose Patrick J. Kelly of Lodge 43, Chicago, Ill.; Grand Ed Hanke of Mooseheart; Grand Deputy Mrs. Emma Hanke of Mooseheart, gave nice talks in regard to the Illinois Legion and its purpose.

Moose hall was well filled with 500 Legionnaires and their families. The next frolic will be held at Freeport, Ill., some time in January.

Scientific Study Of Family Problems

Chicago, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Existing importance of women as a determining factor in modern commerce, and evidence of their increasing importance as the greatest influence on national buying power, were stressed in an address delivered under the auspices of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs at Marshall Field's auditorium today by Mrs. Edith Mc Clure-Patterson, of Dayton, Ohio, General Federation Chairman on Budgets, under American Home Department.

Mrs. Patterson, a niece of John H. Patterson, founder of the National Cash Register Company, advocated the same scientific study of family problems that were given by her famous uncle in his study of industry.

"The prosperity of this country depends largely on the buying volume of women shoppers," Mrs. Patterson said.

"Women are playing a great part in the office and in industry. But their greatest part is, and always will be, their importance as the buying agents for the home. Home making is the country's greatest industry, and women are the officers of the board of directors of this industry."

"The housewife is the largest and most important single factor in the nation's whole economic system. It is she who uses the produce of the farms, and regulates the output of industry."

"Industries are talking a great deal of 'saturation points' meaning the points to which they can swell their output and still make money. To women, saturation means the point to which the weekly sum of money will stretch, the point when purchases mean happiness, and when they begin to mean unhappiness through excessive expenditure."

Practical Club in Pleasant Meeting

The members of the Practical club held a pleasant meeting Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. D. G. Palmer, which was well attended. The home was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers.

After the business meeting Miss Frances Ackert delighted all with two instrumental solos, "In a Boat," by Becker, and "By the Brookside," by Karanoff.

Mrs. A. E. Marth gave a short talk on Parliamentary Law. Roll call was answered with patriotic quotations.

The feature of the meeting was the book review by Mrs. H. V. Hunt on the book, "We Must March," by Mrs. Honora Willard Morrow. It is a story of the old frontier days and covered wagons and is written in Mrs. Morrow's characteristic and fascinating manner. Mrs. Hunt's review was comprehensive and entertaining and held the interest of all to the end.

During the social hour Mrs. Palmer, assisted by Mrs. Niles Palmer, served delicious refreshments completing a delightful afternoon.

Rebekahs Again Honor Mrs. Robbins

The Rock Falls lodge entertained members of the Rebekah lodges in district No. 8, Monday evening in the Odd Fellows hall at a district pep meeting and reception in honor of Mrs. Emma K. Robbins of Dixon, past president of the district and the newly elected vice president of the Rebekah state assembly. Ninety were in attendance. The Polo Rebekah lodge was represented by six members, Ashton five, Sterling nineteen, Morrison ten and Dixon five.

Prior to the program for the evening, a short business meeting of the Rock Falls lodge took place and the usual business routine was conducted. The honored guest, Mrs. Robbins was escorted to the center of the lodge room by the noble grand of the Rock Falls lodge, Mrs. Nora Wright, where she remained standing while Mrs. Mayme Brown sang sweetly "Just a Wearying for You," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Edna Walzer. As Mrs. Robbins was being escorted, the flower girls of the Rock Falls lodge, who were attired in white, formed an arch of white chrysanthemums under which she passed.

Mrs. Robbins was then escorted through an improvised gateway to her chair. Other officers of the district were also introduced at this time. They are Mrs. Nellie Drummond of Ashton, president, introduced by Mrs. Lillian Grise, Mrs. Lillian Pfulb of Rock Falls, warden, introduced by Mrs. Edna Collier; Miss Edna Kentner of Dixon, vice president, introduced by Mrs. Stella Pierce. Dr. Robbins of Dixon, past grand master, was introduced by Mrs. Belle Callaghan. Two other past district presidents were also introduced. They were Mrs. Mary Boehm of Sterling, introduced by Mrs. Helena Grimes, noble grand of Sterling Rebekah lodge and Mrs. Hattie Ebersole of Sterling, introduced by Mrs. Lily Stevens.

Gift to Mrs. Robbins, Mrs. Pfulb, the warden of the district and secretary of the Rock Falls Rebekah lodge, made the address of welcome, in which she spoke very highly of the new vice president of the state assembly, Mrs. Pfulb said:

"We are proud of the success Mrs. Robbins has attained in district No. 8, where she is so greatly esteemed and has accomplished splendidly. She has developed a personality which we realize in district No. 8 with true greatness."

Afterward Mrs. Pfulb in behalf of the Rock Falls Rebekah lodge presented Mrs. Robbins with a handsome gift, a linen luncheon set, for which she responded very pleasingly.

Delbert Wright of Rock Falls sang two selections, "Captain Mack" and "Love's Old Sweet Song," which were very much enjoyed. He was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Edna Walker. Short talks were made by Dr. Robbins and Miss Kentner.

The president of the district, Mrs. Nellie Drummond of Ashton was presented with a bouquet of beautiful flowers in behalf of the Rock Falls lodge, by Mrs. Nellie Gibson.

A male quartet composed of Grant Landis, Charles Pfulb, Delbert Wright and Philip Smith sang two selections, one of which was "Juanita," which were very pretty. A delicious lunch was served in the dining room at the conclusion of the program. The tables were attractively set and decorated with the Rebekah lodge colors, pink and green. Crepe paper and candles carried out the color scheme.

ENTERTAINING WITH BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. F. M. Banker, Mrs. Horace Dypart and Mrs. Moore of Franklin Grove are entertaining today with a bridge luncheon at Mrs. Banker's home. The guests present from Dixon included Mesdames H. A. Roe, W. W. Woolley, W. C. Durkes.

DIXON WOMAN'S CLUB TO MEET SATURDAY

The Dixon Woman's Club will meet at the court house Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at which time a mock trial will be staged by the members. Guests will be privileged to attend on payment of the usual guest fee.

FRANCE TO WELCOME LEGION.

Because of reports that American tourists had been ill treated in France last summer, a sentiment was spread among members of the American Legion against holding the convention of 1927 in Paris, but France has not been wholly insensitive to events, and assurances of a wonderful welcome are being sent out.

By some the attitude is attributed to a desire to send back the American Legion with a feeling that something should be done by the United States for amelioration of France, perhaps some little thing in connection with a small account said to be owing.

Anyhow the French veterans have decided that their former comrades in arms shall be given a rousing reception on the tenth anniversary of the landing of American troops in France, and they have appealed to the French as a nation to join them. The government is said to have entered into the spirit of the affair, and perhaps that is why there is some suspicion that hope is being entertained for a good report by the legionnaires upon their return from Paris.

Colonel Pinot came to the United States as a French envoy to the American Legion convention. Through the French veterans he is making his appeal for such treatment of the guests of 1927 as will result in praise and will offset the censure brought back by United States soldiers at the end of the war because of profiteering.

Officials will make every effort to prevent petty profiteering by hotels and tradesmen. Appeals are being made to the people to take the American soldiers into their homes and to make them comfortable either without charge or with reasonable charge. The call has been issued by the head of the poilus' organization for ten thousand homes to be opened to the Americans.

"Repeatedly the American Legion has shown that it preserves in the hearts of American veterans their comradeship for the French," he said. "How can we better show our gratitude for the legion's friendship than by opening our homes to them?"

There is a Paris post of the American Legion, which is active. It is advertising for ten thousand former French soldiers to serve as guides and interpreters, both in Paris and on the battle fields, for the convenience of the visitors. As a result of this appeal it is said that hundreds of former poilus are studying English with a view to rendering this service for the expense money of about $1.50 a day, which is being offered.

PROSPERITY AND CHEAPER PRICES.

Prices have been declining during the last year. Business activity has been expanding. The fact that we've had prosperity even though prices were generally receding is not unusual in our country's history, the experience of 1880 to 1890 supporting it. With prices going down, it is argued that prosperity should continue, since business activity is holding up well and there is no inflation.

But there's a fly in it. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, wholesale prices have declined 7 per cent during the last 12 months. Meanwhile the prices of farm products were falling away 15 per cent and fuel prices were going up 5 per cent. During this period prices of building material and metals remained almost unchanged.

It remains to be seen whether other prices will follow the lead of the farmer's products. Unless such adjustments are made the signs are not healthy. Just now the farmer seems to be getting the worst of the bargain.

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Down to the cellar Clowny went. His body felt stiff and bent, for he'd been huddled closely in the tool chest for a day. The farmer set the tool chest down and sort of jolted Mister Clowny. It also set him thinking how he'd try to get away.

The other Tynmites, outside, just talked and talked and sighed and sighed. Said Copy, "We have got to rescue Clowny Tynmite. If we can do it, it would be swell. He might be injured. Who can tell? And, gee, for us to leave him all alone just isn't right."

"I won't feel right till he is freed," snapped Copy, so they all agreed that they would sneak up to the house and see just what was what. So shortly, they all left the shed and, as they ran weedy Carpy said, "We first must find that tool chest. That's the only chance we've got."

They romped to where some bushes grew. 'Twas Copy's hunch because he knew that from the clump of bushes they could see the cellar plain. A basement window soon was found, about two inches from the ground. So Copy said, "Hurrah! I knew this plan was not in vain."

"This window's dusty, I believe. I'll try to clean it with my sleeve," said Scouty, as he rubbed until the dirt all disappeared. The job was hard, and rather slow. When finished, he peered down below, just trusting he would see the chest so they would all be cheered.

The other Tynmites kept still, all crowded round the window sill. Then Scouty whispered, "I have seen a very welcome sight. The tool chest's sitting on the floor. That's just what we've been looking for. We soon will rescue Clowny, but let's wait until tonight."

SAINT and SINNER

BY ANNE AUSTIN

"Dad, darling, won't you please go on to bed? You look utterly exhausted," Faith pleaded with her father. "It's nearly twelve o'clock, dear. I'll wait up for Cherry and tell her how much she has hurt and distressed you. I don't think she'll do it again."

Mr. Lane closed the worn, limp Bible over a finger to mark his place and gazed up at his daughter with stern, sad eyes. "I'm going to wait up till she comes if I have to sit here all night," he told her implacably.

"I've been reading Proverbs, Faith, and it's come home to me this night that I'm to blame for Cherry's waywardness. No one controlled her when she was little, and now she doesn't know the meaning of the word 'obey.'"

"I'm willing to take the blame, Dad," Faith's voice trembled slightly. "I've realized tonight that I've been a mighty poor sister to Joy, too. The poor little thing hardly knows what a mother is, and I, who should have been a second mother to her, have let her grow up like a little weed."

"There, there, daughter," Jim Lane put stiff, awkward arms around his eldest daughter. "I don't know what would have become of the Lane family without you."

Faith's sobs diminished, but she still clung to her father, her right hand patting the rough, grizzled tangle of his hair.

"Are you two going to set up all night?"

They both started guiltily for they had not heard Mrs. Lane's footsteps. She stood in the doorway. She had been crying and there were streaks of tears down her puffy cheeks.

was almost hysterical with gladness. "You'd better go back to bed, Mother, Bill's coming in."

"You go get my kimono," Mrs. Lane stepped into the dining room out of sight of the arriving couple. When Faith returned with her mother's old dark blue corduroy dressing robe, she heard Cherry's light, gay laugh and the deeper note of Bill Warren's pleasant voice.

"But Daddy, darling, it's twelve o'clock. You ought to have been asleep hours ago! Poor, tired old Daddy, reading his Bible like the angel he is! I'll bet he's read it clear through a dozen times, Bill. No wonder I'm such a good little girl with a pious old Daddy like him!"

"I want to have a talk with you, young lady," Faith heard her father's stern voice reply. "Send your young man home. I'm not going to be put off this time."

Mrs. Lane, wrapping the kimono about her vast body, stepped into the living room. "You ought to be ashamed of yourself, Jim Lane, ordering Cherry's company off the place. Sit down, Bill," she nodded and smiled at the embarrassed young man. "You come along to bed with me, Jim Lane. You've cut enough didoes for one night."

Mr. Lane rose, and extended a hand to Bill Warren. "I've been minding" Martha a good many years, Mr. Warren. I'm sorry if I sounded rude just now. Good night. I'll speak to you in the morning, miss," he turned to glare or a moment at Cherry, whose bright eyes met his with untrodden gaiety.

"Don't you go, Faith," Cherry whispered as her mother and father left the room.

FOOTBALL COACHES TO ARRANGE THEIR SCHEDULE NOV. 26

Will Meet in Chicago on Eve of Army vs Navy Meeting

Chicago, Nov. 10—(AP)—Athletic directors and football coaches have chosen the eve of the Army-Navy game to draft the 1927 football schedules. They will meet here Friday, Nov. 26 and intend to witness the spectacle after arranging for next season.

Rumblings of new alignments among the traditional Big Ten opponents were heard today, the annual Chicago-Northwestern series being one which gossip says is likely to be broken. Illinois is ready to accept the place on the Northwestern program for 1927 and the Purple also are anxious to arrange a big inter-sectional game to fill their new double deck stadium with its seating capacity of about 70,000.

A. A. Stagg, director of athletics at Chicago, remains silent on the reported break with Northwestern, a grudge of more than a quarter of a century.

Penn Comes to Chicago
Chicago has an engagement with Pennsylvania to be played in the west in 1927, but it is questionable if Illinois and Pennsylvania will clash again next year.

The Michigan-Minnesota and the Indiana-Northwestern double headers of this year undoubtedly will not be arranged for 1927, that is, the coaches do not want any more of the double header games provided it is possible to arrange schedules without them.

Coach Rockne of Notre Dame who has been playing conference opponents and beating them with Big Ten foes next season. Rockne hopes to renew the contract with Northwestern. Notre Dame also will play Army next year and may again engage Minnesota.

Coach Yost of Michigan has arranged to play Navy at Ann Arbor, Nov. 12 next year and will dedicate the monster new stadium with its seating capacity of 75,000 with Ohio State game on Oct. 22, 1927.

Purdue's showing against Navy, although losing 14-17, makes it certain that the Boilermakers will come in for their share of attractive games.

TY COBB FIRST BALL PLAYER TO BECOME WEALTHY

Doubled Diamond Earnings on Tips Given by Friends

By NEA Service
Detroit, Nov. 10—Ty Cobb, during his 21 years in the American League, has broken a few financial records, aside from the countless playing feats that are to his credit.

The Georgia Peach is baseball's first millionaire player. That is a fairly conservative statement. Cobb hasn't amassed the cool million from baseball's compensation alone; he has been mighty fortunate in his investments.

Innumerable tips from wealthy hero worshippers have enabled Cobb to parlay his baseball dividends in such a way that he has practically doubled them.

In round figures Cobb has made $500,000 out of baseball. Starting with a salary of $1800 in the first year, he so capitalized his prestige and ability that he drew down $60,000 as player-manager of the Detroit club last season.

That sum was not salary alone. It included a share in the profits of the club. It is said that Tris Speaker and Cobb are the only two managers, aside from John McGraw, who have ever been given a contract cutting them in on the profits.

It is estimated that Cobb's salary for 15 years as a player averaged about $15,000 per year, making a total of $225,000.

Got Cut in Profits
When he became manager, not only was his salary as a player substantially increased but he received a big sum for shouldering the managerial responsibilities, plus a cut in the profits.

Despite the fact that Cobb never won a pennant during his six-year regime, his club always was threatening and the fans were always hoping. The Tigers did a big business.

As player-manager Cobb has averaged $35,000 per year for six seasons, a total of $210,000.

The greatest player of all time, his fame has been such that his name has been in constant demand for advertising purposes. It is a low figure to say that he has earned $75,000 in that manner.

The sum of $225,000 earned in 16 years as player, the $210,000 for his services as player-manager and $75,000 through the medium of using his name for advertising, brings Cobb's baseball earnings to $510,000.

A tip on General Motors which Cobb played last year brought him a profit of $150,000. He has put over several big coups in the cotton market and is one of the big stockholders in the Coca Cola Company.

Nick Altrock says if he had only what Cobb has over a million dollars he would consider himself a wealthy man. Nick may be a clown, but not at figures.

WINTER BRINGS CHANGES IN BIG TEN TEAMS WORK

Alters Dope on Games to be Played This Saturday P. M.

Chicago, Nov. 10—(AP)—Western Conference football games teams guarded themselves today against both the assault of Saturday's foes and the drives of Old Man Winter.

With the first wintery week end of the season in prospect, coaches rummaged in lockers for cold weather equipment and prepared their elevens for performance either in mud or on frozen gridirons.

The importance of the week's major encounters discouraged inclination to pass up scrimmage for indoor work and the squads sloshed through long sessions in the open.

Changing weather brought changes in dope, but Michigan continues a slight favorite over Ohio State in a game which promises to be fought out in the air.

Bulldogs Plan Speed
At Wisconsin, Coach Little greeted the arrival of cold and slush with definite indications of a "pony" backfield and a lighter and speedier attack for use against Iowa.

Northwestern is figured favorite over Chicago, but Thistlethwaite is leaving no stone unturned to give Purple a decisive triumph. Both elevens labored in the snow against Freshmen, with the Chicago youngsters' version of the Purple attack faring discouragingly well against the regulars.

At Illinois, Zupke touched up his game here and there for the benefit of Wabash, but managed to work in a good deal of the Ohio game the Illinois team had hence, Minnesota and Purdue also eased up in their work, in anticipation of no great difficulty in downing Butler and Franklin in non-conference games.

Indiana is preparing to turn back Mississippi A. & M. in the conference an inter-sectional.

Bad weather made Rockne more gloomy than ever with snow covering the field for the last day or practice before the Irish sail forth against Army. The doctors have Parson, clever quarterback, out, but it looks as though Rockne will have Boyle back at his old fullback post, up in shape to drive against the Cause line.

Ingram Has Great Record With Navy During the Year

Chicago, Nov. 10—(AP)—The feat of whipping a foot-ball team into such condition that a margin of 54 points minus one year is converted into 16 points plus the following year against the same team, indicates that "Navy Ball" Ingram is considerable football coach. That is what Ingram did with this year's squad at Annapolis. Last year the Navy invaded Ferry field at Ann Arbor and took a terrible beating, the score being 54 to 0. This year, under Ingram's guidance the Midshipmen took the over-confident Wolverines to a 10 to 0 trimming at Baltimore.

Ingram spent two or three years at Indiana, severing his relations at the Hoosier institution at the end of the 1925 season. While at Indiana, Ingram failed to do anything out of the ordinary with the teams he coached. He probably did as well as anybody could have done under the circumstances because the material was lacking. He had an aggregation of griders who were full of fight, but they lacked weight, and most other qualifications of first rate footballers. Ingram's Indiana team was overruled by Michigan last autumn.

The opportunity came for Ingram to return to his alma mater, as he starred on Navy teams a few years ago, and with choice players to work with Ingram has developed a team that had the distinction of being one of the few unbeaten aggregations of the country.

Army-Notre Dame Game Holds Fans

New York, Nov. 10—(AP)—The trouble-laden road toward national football supremacy stretches ahead of one of two mighty elevens, Army and Notre Dame, as a reward of victory in their annual clash of east and mid-west in the Yark Stadium Saturday. Almost the same Rockne machine the Army humbled last year 27-0, a green team then, is coming back east; hungry for revenge and primed for victory. The Notre Dame youths, grown bigger, stronger and more experienced have flashed a sweeping offense and rock ribbed defense that need only surpass the best in the far west to be conceded the country's finest. If Army is toppled in defeat, the C. D. stars, similarly, have mopped up eastern opponents with practically the same team that whipped Notre Dame last fall.

Concrete is the aristocrat of pavements

What Concrete Streets Have Done For Elgin

"Getting there on time" often depends as much upon a good pavement as upon a good watch. And thereby hangs a tale.

Ten years ago there were only a few blocks of concrete pavement in Elgin, Ill., home of the Elgin National Watch Company. Today there are a quarter of a million square yards.

This has played an important part in building up the finer residential sections, and stimulating demand for property along streets, that previously were unimproved.

In fact, concrete paving is now practically the unanimous choice of the citizens of Elgin, and has been a great help in home-site selling.

Property values on concrete streets have climbed steadily upward, better homes are being built, millions of dollars have been invested in the city's future. All Elgin is the gainer.

No wonder Elgin keeps on adding to its concrete yardage year after year. No wonder over 1,000 cities laid concrete streets in 1925.

All of the facts are in our free booklet on "Concrete Streets." Ask for your copy.

Women Who 'Tend Home Fires Want "Quick Fire Coke"

It is a Clean Fuel

"QUICK FIRE COKE" is lighter and cleaner to handle, fewer firings of furnace, less ashes to carry out than with soft coal.

We urge "QUICK FIRE COKE" for all types of furnaces and heating plants in homes, hotels, or office buildings, because of its steady, easily regulated heat, uniform high quality, absolute freedom from dust and dirt, and greater heating value ton for ton than hard or soft coal.

Do not merely say "coke" when ordering. If you wish to be sure of having the highest quality of by-product coke it is possible to make, you should insist upon "QUICK FIRE COKE".

"QUICK FIRE COKE" is more than a trade mark. It is a guarantee of quality, efficiency, and service—a superior fuel that does not deteriorate, nor lose any of its heating value whether stored for long periods in bins or exposed to the weather.

Women who "keep the home-fires burning" will never go back to the use of soft coal, if they burn "QUICK FIRE COKE" through one winter. With "QUICK FIRE COKE", the curtains, draperies, rugs and wall paper will be cleaner at the end of winter than they are with the first few weeks of burning soft coal. Any woman who burns or has burned soft coal knows how damaging it is and what a lot of extra work it makes in scrubbing, dusting, and cleaning from the constant "tracking" of coal dust and ashes from the furnace room over the house. There is no smoke, nor soot, in burning this coke and it is practically free from dust and ashes. The Indiana Coke & Gas Company, Terre Haute, makers of "QUICK FIRE COKE" send an interesting booklet "HOW TO BURN COKE" to any householder on request. Write for it today and learn how you may reduce your coal bills and eliminate smoke and soot damage to your house-furnishings and interior decorations.

Pimples

What can I do?

"O. H. why can't I have a skin like other girls? Why do I have to have these ugly pimples, blotches and blackheads?"

"If I could only find something that would clear up my skin and give me back my soft, rosy complexion. I know I would be the happiest girl in the world! What can I do?"

Is that you talking? If it is, you don't have to worry a minute! Just build up the rich, red blood in your body. Then your skin will be as clear and soft as anybody's.

That's what S. S. S. has been doing for generations—helping Nature build rich, red blood! You can build red-blood-cells so fast that the impurities that cause breaking out on the skin hardly get into the system before the pure blood annihilates them—kills them right out—stops them from breaking out through the skin.

And then this rich, red, pure blood feeds and nourishes the tissues of the skin and keeps it looking healthy.

That's all there is to it. Healthy, vigorous red blood such as S. S. S., helps Nature build, makes you healthy all over. It beautifies your skin—drives away pimples, blackheads, blotches, rash, boils and eczema—gives you back your appetite—builds firm, plump flesh and fills you full of new life and energy.

ROCHELLE MASONS TEMPLE YESTERDAY DEDICATED THEIR

Handsome New $40,000 Building Consecrated to Masonry

Rochelle, Nov. 10.—Horicon lodge, No. 224, A. F. & A. M. of Rochelle and its auxiliary organizations, yesterday realized the ambition it had cherished for many years in the dedication of its $40,000 temple, a structure of which any community of 5,000 people might well be proud.

Karl Mohr of Rockford, district deputy grand master; Owen Scott of Deatur, grand secretary; Robert B. Mathers, grand lecturer and a group of Chicago grand deities were in charge of the dedication rites which followed a banquet in the temple at 6:30 o'clock last evening. The committee in charge of the dedication ceremonial being:

Committee in Charge
Reception committee, Fred W. Craft; Theo. Hagg; Austin A. Conzett; W. R. Duschner; Peter Shewland; R. L. Heydecke; R. L. Breyer; C. A. Anderson; Adolph Hill; W. J. Huston; W. B. McHenry.

The story of the building of Rochelle's Masonic temple is an epoch of vision backed up by enterprise in which Joe Updyke, local retired contractor, takes the leading role. As far back as 1918, Rochelle Masons talked temple and the move gained impetus when the late Emmanuel Hill, a wealthy local clothing merchant who for 55 years had served Horicon lodge as its treasurer, bequeathed to the lodge a valuable downtown site.

Plans for a temple were prepared by a metropolitan architect, but the structure as designed was estimated to cost $55,000 and it was apparent that the lodge could never raise that much money.

Then the widow of Mr. Hill offered to donate $10,000 toward the temple on condition that it be built without indebtedness of any kind. This meant that the entire building fund must be raised by donations. It seemed impossible and for a time the plans and hopes of Horicon lodge were relegated to the archives. Then Joe Updyke revived the seemingly lost cause.

For months he worked among the membership to secure the donations. He worked on the theory that a temple such as Horicon lodge and its auxiliary bodies required could be built for $40,000 and that $30,000 could be raised by the membership in donations so that Mrs. Hill's offer could be accepted.

Donate It's Work.
The veteran contractor drew the plans and after they were sanctioned by the lodge he purchased the material and supervised actual construction work. All this he did without material reward, donating his time and labor to the cause of the temple.

Today Rochelle's Masonic temple is the reality of stone and steel and Joe Updyke praises the membership whose liberal donations made the structure possible while the lodge lauds the veteran contractor-lodge man who gave unstintingly of his time and talents to build the temple. "Mr. Hill bequeathed a valuable site to the lodge which is easily worth $8,000," Mr. Updyke explained. His widow offered a gift of $10,000, which she withdrew when the plans for an $85,000 temple were contemplated because she felt that such an undertaking would end in failure.

"Then she renewed her offer on condition that the temple be built free of indebtedness. I thought it would be an injustice to the memory of Mr. Hill to drop the plans for the temple and I knew that the lodge would never again have such a favorable opportunity to build so I went among the Masons of Rochelle and secured pledges, accepting none under $100, and so we raised $30,000."

Refused a Profit.
"I knew about what the lodge wanted and I knew about what could be built for $40,000. So I drew the plans and having drawn them I thought I could help the financial end of it along by supervising the building and eliminating the profit that a contractor would have taken. The membership of these lodges has co-operated wonderfully. Without that, of course, the temple could never have been built. We believe the temple is a credit to Rochelle."

Galesburg Votes Bonds to Sink New Deep Well

Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Galesburg voters at the recent election put their approval on a proposal to issue bonds to the amount of $125,000 for a new deep well and water works plant here. The new plant was made necessary by the summer's floods which reached it on several occasions, putting the pumps out of commission.

Proponents of the bond issue argued that the new well is necessary to meet the needs of the growing city. Twenty-one hundred new water meters have been installed in the last five years and the present supply is said to be hardly sufficient to care for the city's needs.

MOST FARMS IN STATE OPERATED AT VARIED LOSS

Illinois College of Agriculture Analyzes Expense Accounts

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Records which hundreds of Illinois farmers have kept in cooperation with the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, show that some Illinois farmers have consistently made a fair rate of earning during the past six years, despite the adverse price conditions existing since 1920, while most farms were operated at a loss, R. H. Hudson, farm organization and management specialist of the college, this afternoon, told bankers attending the bankers' agricultural short course at the college.

So long as the farmer's business is bowling along in the full light of high prices and good markets he may not realize that he is in a rut, but in the darkness of depression such as has been experienced since 1920 the farmer needs light enough to see the rut and avoid them, Hudson pointed out. The simple farm account as recommended by the agricultural college serves as that light and has been successfully used by many Illinois farmers, he added.

Last year the agricultural college put out nearly five thousand account books in the state, the only cost to farmers being that of printing and mailing the books, the speaker said. At the close of 1925 a total of 1,100 completed farm account books were collected and analyzed for farmers, he said.

Books Analyzed.
"As near as we can tell the use of accounts increases the average annual earning capacity of a farm about $665. This is good pay for a job that does not take more than five or ten minutes a day."

"That superior management really does pay when applied to the farming business is brought out in a striking way in the accounts. In Henry County last year, for instance, there was an average difference of $3,000 in the labor and management wage between the third best and the third poorest paying farms on which records were kept."

In an effort to help farmers get the most out of the thousands of tons of limestone which they are applying annually to their soils, the agronomy department of the university has worked out a plan whereby county farm advisers can direct a soil testing service in which thousands of acres can be tested in a short time, C. M. Linsley, of the department, explained to the bankers.

One central Illinois county, using the college's plan, tested more than seventeen thousand acres of land within a few weeks time, he said. The chief advantage in the plan is that it enables the farmer to apply his limestone where it is most needed, he explained. Each farmer is instructed to collect his own soil samples from the field or fields on which he wishes to apply limestone. These samples are then brought to a meeting where the farmer tests them and makes a soil acidity map of the field or fields under the supervision of the farm adviser. This soil map not only shows just what portions of the field are acid and which are not but also indicates the degree of acidity.

Believe Americans Want Their Operas in English

New York.—(AP)—Popularity of operettas indicates the American people appreciate amusements of musical value, but prefer them in English.

This is the decision of Yvonne D'Arle, former grand opera singer, who gave up roles in the works of Puccini and Wagner to star in "Countess Maritza."

"I do not intend to remain in the operetta field," said Miss D'Arle. "Operas offer greater vocal opportunities. My appearance in 'Countess Maritza' is my contribution to the cause of opera in English."

Miss D'Arle concludes from a study of opera audiences that outside of the regular subscription patrons and a small circle of musically inclined persons, opera houses are filled with Italian speaking people on the nights that performances are sung in Italian and with Germans on the nights of Wagner.

Operettas have become almost as numerous as musical comedies. Seven are presented in New York. They are "The Vagabond King," "Iolanthe," "Countess Maritza," "Deep River," "Barbar Fritchie," "The Nightingale" and "The Willow Tree."

"WHAT TO WEAR?" PROBLEM BEFORE CHICAGO COUNCIL

Aldermen to Meet to Greet Queen Marie Saturday Evening

Chicago, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Queen Marie's call at the city hall for a formal visit with Mayor William E. Dever and the city fathers has been set for 5:45 p. m. Saturday; near the border line when afternoon dress passes out and evening wear appears. The council was unable to agree on the proper garb for the occasion, so each member was left to work out his own wardrobe.

Some of the city fathers said they would not be present, others asserted they would come direct from their offices, and a few said they would "wear what the rest wore."

One alderman announced that he expected to wear full evening dress. Most of those planning to attend said their greeting would be a handshake. Mayor Dever is faced with the prospect of becoming a quick change artist from cutaway to "tails" if he returns the Rumanian sovereign's visit at her hotel fifteen minutes later. The mayor was out of the city today and no announcement was forthcoming as to his raiment.

TO CENSOR INTERVIEWS
Queen Marie's Train EnRoute to

Denver, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Queen Marie is not disturbed at the thought that virtual censorship is to guide her conversations with newspapermen aboard her train, as announced last night by Prof. Nicholas Petresco, representing the Rumanian prime minister on the tour.

M. Petresco's chief concern is guarding against utterances by the Majesty which might have disturbing political significance at home, but Marie has undiminished confidence in her own ability to handle delicate situations.

The professor explained that the Queen has not been required by law to swear to uphold the constitution and cannot be held responsible for her declarations. He recalled also that the government has enjoined Her Majesty from granting interviews in which she is to be quoted by newspapers.

The professor also advised correspondents that he is to be the channel through which news of the royal family will reach the press.

A peace note was sounded by Ira Nelson Morris, Rumanian consul general at Chicago, who suggested that differences be forgotten and that "we look upon each other as friends" and enjoy the rest of the trip.

GET RID OF YOUR FAT

Thousands of others have gotten rid of theirs by my simple and efficient method of fat reduction without starvation diet or burdensome exercise, often at a very rapid rate and WITHOUT PAYMENT until reduction has taken place.

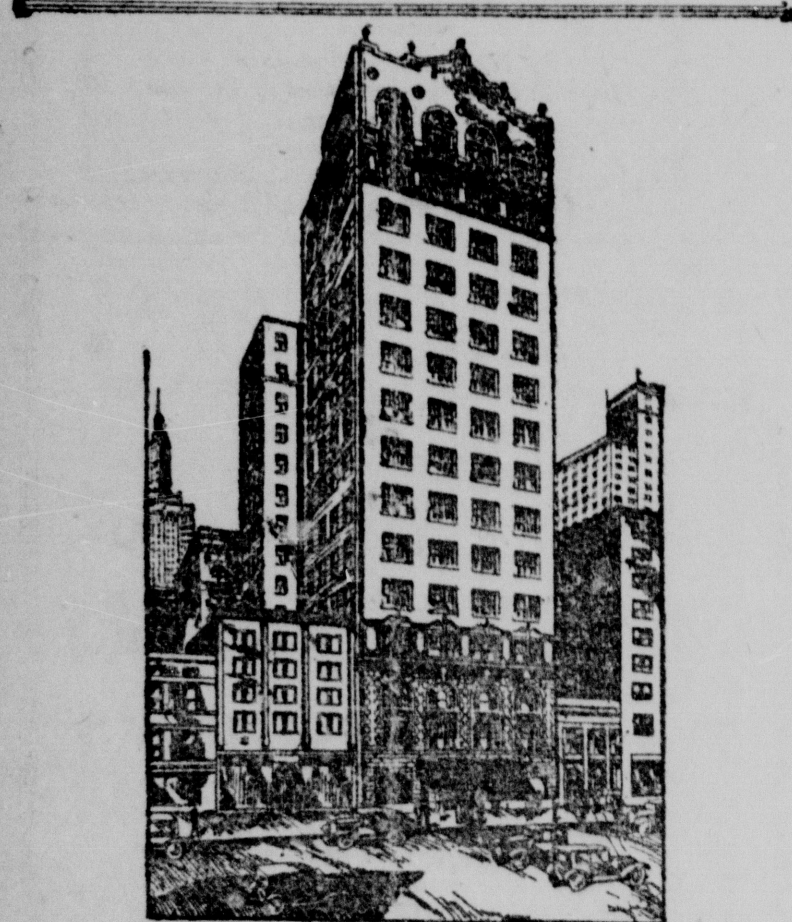

I am a licensed practicing physician and have made a careful study of the physiological requirements of the human body. This has enabled me to select such ingredients and in such proportion as in my opinion will produce not only a less of weight without harm and an improvement in health, but with it an alleviation of all of the troublesome symptoms which frequently accompany and often are a direct result of overweightness, such as shortness of breath on slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, etc., not to speak of the relief from the embarrassment of being too stout. Stout persons suffering from such diseases as Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Asthma and high blood pressure are greatly relieved by a reduction of their superfluous fat.

My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, giving you the renewed energy and vigor which come as a result of the loss of superfluous fat. If you are over stout do not postpone but sit down right now and send for my FREE TRIAL TREATMENT and my plan whereby I am to be PAID ONLY AFTER REDUCTION HAS TAKEN PLACE if you so desire.

$2.50 For a room with private Bath — over eighty percent of our rooms are quoted at this price — in fact we guarantee a $2.50 room for you at any time. Other Chicago hotels advertise $2.50 rooms — we guarantee to deliver.

The Berkshire is one of Chicago's newest and most beautifully appointed hotels. It is located on the popular near north side, just five minutes' walk, or a short ride on either surface line or bus from the "loop", theatres, Lake Michigan, Lincoln Park and other interesting places about the city. You will also like the "Little English Cafe."

Experience gained through operating ten other hotels enables us to offer unusual rates. All that I ask is an opportunity to show our hotel. Let me know when.

Polarine and Performance

The performance of individual cars may vary, but the performance of every car depends, to a large degree, on the same factor—lubrication.

A new car poorly lubricated may give more trouble than an ancient model that is perfectly lubricated. The motor oil affects performance more than age. Improper lubrication always causes trouble in the engine. Surface grinds against surface using every piece of dirt or grit as a weapon of destruction. A slow steady fight goes on between the parts of the engine until they wear each other out and the car breaks down.

If you want smooth, sustained performance from your car, keep it lubricated with Polarine, the perfect motor oil.

Consult the chart at any Standard Oil Service Station or authorized garage for the grade of Polarine made expressly for your car.

CHURCH SERVICE, FOOTBALL GAMES ARMISTICE DAY

lowing which Rev. Joseph M. Lonergan, past national chaplain of the American Legion, will speak at the opera house.

Armistice day brings both a sacred and gala memory. Those who sacrificed and gave the most always must be remembered with reverence. Those who served with them and came back owe it to comrades to recall their virtues and set them forth as examples worthy to be followed. Fathers and mothers, wives and sisters and brothers who were bereft by the losses of camp and battle field, always will desire that a portion of Armistice day shall be given to a ceremony in which their hearts will find solace.

Armistice day, the day that signified the end of the war, the conclusion of fighting and bloodshed, ever must possess the significance to which the lighter emotions pay homage. It is a day to be celebrated with gladness and happiness.

PLANS AROUND STATE

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 10—(AP)—Blar-ing bands and colorful parades will feature in the Armistice Day celebrations planned by most of the cities of Illinois, for the eight anniversary of the event that sent the world into a riot of joy at the news of the ending of the World War.

The departed comrades of the veterans of that great struggle have not been forgotten in the plans for the day. In every city the celebrants will pause for a moment of silence at 11 o'clock facing the East, paying tribute to the Americans who lost their lives in service.

Armistice Day will be the "Third Annual Join-Up Day" for the American Legion. Already there are 2,886 members for 1927 in Illinois and a goal of 5,000 has been set for November 11.

Rockford plans a three day fair featuring Thursday when American Legion drum corps of five states will compete for mid-west championship honors in the great military parade which will open the celebration. On Friday the first annual Rock River Valley Juvenile Band contest will be held and on Saturday 30,000 families have been invited to attend a barbecue at Black Hawk park.

Carlinstrom at Danville
Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom will be the speaker at the Danville Armistice Day Community banquet to be held in the Masonic temple there Thursday night. Between 500 and 600 persons are expected to attend.

A parade, a memorial service in the Fort Armstrong theater, and a fireworks exhibition is the program at Rock Island. The fireworks display will be made up of rockets, signal bombs and star shells, the type of pyrotechnics used in the World War.

Bloomington will hold a public ceremony at 11 o'clock in the morning Armistice Day and in the evening the American Legion will hold a dance in the state headquarters building.

Major John V. Clinnen of Chicago, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans, will be the principal speaker at the Morris, Illinois, American Legion banquet. Following the dinner there will be a public dance at the new Masonic temple.

The Benton Township High school and the American Legion will combine in a Homecoming celebration at Benton on November 11. The day will be climaxed with a football game between the Red Rangers and the Herrin team.

Parade at Decatur
Fifty-two floats are assured in the Armistice Day parade to be held in Decatur Thursday. Two dances will be held under the auspices of the American Legion that night.

Two high school bands, the American Legion drum corps, Champaign police and a troop of cavalry from the University of Illinois will be included in the parade at Champaign Thursday morning. At 10:30 there will be airplane maneuvers, a salute by the University artillery in West Side park and a salute by Company B at Gazette square. Captain Butcher of Chanute Field, will give an address at this time.

Legion posts of Warren and Henderson counties will celebrate with a stag banquet and program in the Monmouth armory.

Bok Building Natural

Bird Park in Florida
Lake Wales, Fla.—(AP)—A natural park, where wild life and plants of Florida will be preserved, is being built near here by Edward W. Bok, journalist and author, who maintains a winter home in the suburbs of this city.

One artificial lake already has been constructed and a second one is now planned. These lakes will harbor the flock of flamingoes which Mr. Bok imported from South America, as well as a number of nightingales imported from England. Both birds were native of Florida.

The park, covering 26 acres, will be known as Mountain Lake Bird Preservation.

Mr. Bok has made plans for the erection on the top of the mountain of a carillon that will contain 67 bells.

Makes Violins While He Awaits Cues in Wings

London—(AP)—George Robey, the famous British music hall artist, makes violins during his waits in theaters. This has been his hobby for years. He assembles materials from all parts of the world and has become so expert that he ventured to present Fritz Kreisler with an instrument he made. Kreisler is so pleased with it that he intends to use it in his public concerts.

FACES EAST!

WHEN the clock strikes that unforgettable hour of 11 o'clock on the morn of Armistice Day, let not a plow turn an inch of soil! . . . nor a wheel of Commerce move. . . nor a single word be spoken. Let Silence lay her golden mantle upon every field and factory. . . every home and office. And from every human heart arise a Silent Prayer of Gratitude to those brave lads who lie under the snowy white crosses of Suresnes. . . in Flanders fields. . . in our own Arlington. . . or in peaceful, consecrated ground nearest the homes they gave their all to defend!

Eight years have passed since those valiant heroes severed the chains that bound Civilization and threatened its very existence. Happily, since then a greater era has dawned. Out of the roar and smoke and sweat and agony of the great conflict, mankind has reached a better understanding. . . a greater Spirit of Brotherhood that already has borne fruit in greater world Peace and Prosperity! May it last for all time!

Yet—let's not forget the price paid for it all. Let's pay reverent homage to those sleeping heroes whose deeds in '17 and '18 covered the pages of history with glory. . . whose courage, unselfishness and love of country and flag prompted them to make the Supreme Sacrifice so that we, who remain might continue to breathe the air of Security, Freedom and Happiness! We can never repay them, but we CAN offer them a silent tribute. 'Tis by turning our—

Faces East and breathing a Thankful Prayer for them on Armistice Day!

BABE GOES A-HUNTING

And He Didn't Forget His License This Time

Doing "four a day" in vaudeville didn't prevent Babe Ruth from getting a chance at hunting, his favorite recreation, when he was in Minneapolis recently. Friends arranged a pheasant shoot for him, and he bagged the limit. Yes, Babe had a hunting license this time!

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

ERIC WATERS, rebellious senior, and DR. PETER DORN, as strongy professor, are rivals for the favor of JUDITH MARTIN, young university teacher.

DEAN TIMOTHY BROWN disapproves of Judith's radical friends and accuses Eric of dealing with "KITTY" SHEA, town bootlegger, in poison liquor. Judith defends him.

MYRA ALDRICH is fond of Judith, but jealous of Eric's attentions to her.

Judith learns of a secret love affair of Dean Brown's wife and befriends her, believing the dean quite heartless.

"KITTY" Shea tries to blackmail Mrs. Brown, and also threatens to expose the fact that Judith and Eric dined at a roadhouse the night it was raided. Eric promises Judith to "shut Shea up."

When Judith is staying in Myra's sorority house alone for the Christmas holidays, Shea tries to force an entrance and she frightens him away by shooting in the air.

Eric returns unexpectedly on Christmas day from his home town, with a bruised eye.

When Judith is talking with EVE GERHART, a widow, at Eric's fraternity house, one evening after the January term opens, Myra sends word that there is a letter for Judith from Dean Brown, at the boarding house.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXI

"FOR me?" asked Judith, frowning.

"Yes," said Eric. "Myra thought you might want to come home and read it."

Eric was smiling meaningfully at Judith. "Well," she said, "excuse me. I'm going after a roasted chestnut."

Judith turned to Eric. "What does that mean?"

He shook his head. "No telling. Why worry? After dinner I'll walk over with you."

Judith tossed her head. "All right."

The note was from the dean's secretary. It requested Judith's presence at his office the following day.

Eric read it over her shoulder. When they had finished, he read it again. "When did you last see Shea, Judith?"

Judith started. "Why do you ask that?"

"Because I believe the dean means to question you about him. You remember that Shea once called you by your first name in front of Dean and Mrs. Brown."

Judith nodded. "Well," said Eric, "they can't find Shea. I was called in myself yesterday and questioned as to his whereabouts. Of course they won't find him. Shea has too many pipelines around town, not to know that they're after him. He'll just lie low in Middleburg till this blows over."

From his vantage point, behind the massive desk in his sanctum, Dean Brown fixed Judith with a solemn help.

Judith stood up. "You are insulting," she said. "I have no connection with liquor. I neither buy, sell nor drink it." She made a move toward the door, but the dean raised his hand.

"Pray do not be hasty," he said. "I only meant that you might be able to give us some information about this man Shea, who is the source of the liquor drunk here. We have a warrant for his arrest."

Judith turned toward him. "I do not know anything about Shea, Dean Brown. I met him casually once at a picnic, but there the acquaintance ended."

"Hm-m," mused the dean, "he began to call you Judith rather early, didn't he?"

"He called me that deliberately, to embarrass me," flashed Judith. "If this is all, I think I will go."

"Just a moment," said the dean. "I am convinced that young Waters knows where Shea is hiding. You—have some influence with Waters. I shall expect you to get information of Shea's whereabouts for us before night. Waters' standing as a student, and yours as a teacher, depend on it."

Judith looked at him in extreme disgust and walked out of the room. Dr. Dorn was standing in the outer room. At sight of Judith's flushed face and angry eyes, he followed her out into the corridor.

"Is anything wrong, Miss Martin?"

"Yes," snapped Judith. "Everything's wrong. I just prevented myself from calling your excellent dean a cad to his face. And now I'm kicking myself for preventing me."

Dr. Dorn's eyes widened. "What is the matter?"

Judith turned on him. "Dean Brown just asked me, under penalty of dismissal, to act as stool pigeon in his wicked little vice campaign. And I turned and walked out of his office."

Dr. Dorn looked distressed. "Judith, please try to calm yourself. Someone might hear you." He looked around apprehensively.

Judith struck her hands together smartly. "What if someone does?" she cried. "Am I to live under a pall all my life, because I chose this sorry job of teaching?"

The professor looked baffled. Judith turned to him. "You don't believe that I know where Shea is, do you?"

"All smashed up—dead some time," she heard the spectacled boy say.

gaze as she entered. His pudgy hands were outspread on the top of the desk, like starfishes caught too far inland when the tide went out.

"Please be seated, Miss Martin."

When she had taken the chair of inquisition, facing him, he took off his glasses and laid them on the desk. "I hope, Miss Martin, that any feeling of hostility which you may have held toward me has by this time disappeared. I trust you realize that we are both in duty bound to work only for the good of the university and the immortal souls entrusted to our guidance."

Judith smiled, and the dean's brows drew together.

"I was only thinking that I was employed to teach people Latin, not about right and wrong," she said.

The dean ignored the implication. "In the great reform which we are inaugurating in the university, our first step is to stamp out the liquor evil. That is where I hope you can help."

Judith stood up. "You are insulting," she said. "I have no connection with liquor. I neither buy, sell nor drink it." She made a move toward the door, but the dean raised his hand.

"Pray do not be hasty," he said. "I only meant that you might be able to give us some information about this man Shea, who is the source of the liquor drunk here. We have a warrant for his arrest."

Judith turned toward him. "I do not know anything about Shea, Dean Brown. I met him casually once at a picnic, but there the acquaintance ended."

"Hm-m," mused the dean, "he began to call you Judith rather early, didn't he?"

"He called me that deliberately, to embarrass me," flashed Judith. "If this is all, I think I will go."

"Just a moment," said the dean. "I am convinced that young Waters knows where Shea is hiding. You—have some influence with Waters. I shall expect you to get information of Shea's whereabouts for us before night. Waters' standing as a student, and yours as a teacher, depend on it."

Judith looked at him in extreme disgust and walked out of the room. Dr. Dorn was standing in the outer room. At sight of Judith's flushed face and angry eyes, he followed her out into the corridor.

"Is anything wrong, Miss Martin?"

"Yes," snapped Judith. "Everything's wrong. I just prevented myself from calling your excellent dean a cad to his face. And now I'm kicking myself for preventing me."

Dr. Dorn's eyes widened. "What is the matter?"

Judith turned on him. "Dean Brown just asked me, under penalty of dismissal, to act as stool pigeon in his wicked little vice campaign. And I turned and walked out of his office."

Dr. Dorn looked distressed. "Judith, please try to calm yourself. Someone might hear you." He looked around apprehensively.

Judith struck her hands together smartly. "What if someone does?" she cried. "Am I to live under a pall all my life, because I chose this sorry job of teaching?"

The professor looked baffled. Judith turned to him. "You don't believe that I know where Shea is, do you?"

He shook his head, as if horror-struck. "Of course not. But the dean will never believe you are innocent so long as you cleave to that young bolshevik, Waters."

The color deepened in Judith's face. "It's no one's business whom I cleave to, so long as I conduct myself as I should. I KNOW Eric hasn't the information they want. I also know that he has never bootlegged. And I CAN'T desert him now. Why, he believes in me!"

Dr. Dorn took her hand timidly. "There are others who believe in you, too, Judith, and who suffer when you imperil that belief."

Judith's eyes were filling with tears. "Turn abruptly, she walked away from him down the hall."

On the porch of the building Myra and Will Wetherell were waiting for her.

Wetherell was wearing the memorable green riding suit. "You see us just retreating from play rehearsal, Jude," he apologized. "I always wear these breeches for the 'Blood and Sand' rehearsals. They make it so much easier to waltz around on the floor in the scene where I make the passionate love to Dona Sol."

Judith laughed in spite of her troubles. "Don't let them make you self-conscious about your breeches, Will. Thank God, there are a few people left who live as their own judgment dictates. Don't ever apologize for anything again. Let's be done with apologies."

Myra was looking at her curiously. "You sound a little bit insane, Judith, like Hamlet in the 'Get thee to a nunnery' speech. What's happened to you?"

Judith only smiled. "I'm just learning what school-teaching means, that's all. And I think a school-teacher might envy a galley slave."

Wetherell looked at her. "You and Eric are both a little crazy these days," he said. "He's been nutty ever since he came back on Christmas day, with that ugly bruise on his head."

Myra's mouth opened. "Christmas day? Did Eric come back then?"

"Sure thing," replied Wetherell. "Myra turned to Judith. 'You didn't tell me, and he didn't tell me.' She was silent a moment. 'And you used my sorority house to entertain him in! Traitor!'

Myra was very white. "Listen, Myra," she said. "You'd better walk away quite fast now. I've had about all I can stand today. And I'm just a little afraid I might slap you."

Wetherell shot a frightened glance at Judith's desperate face, and, seizing Myra by the arm, walked her rapidly away.

Judith went down into the sunken garden by the sundial and sat on a stone bench. In fifteen minutes, the two o'clock bell rang, and she picked up the Horace textbook that lay beside her and started wearily for the building again.

Most of the class had assembled when she entered the room, but she saw that Eric had not come in.

A little group by the window turned and eyed her, then put heads together again. She could hear a whispered word here and there.

Soon, she began to listen with desperate eagerness. "All smashed up—dead some time," she heard the spectacled boy say to the shuddering Misses Reasey. "Car full of empty jugs and bottles—letters."

(To Be Continued)

Shea is dead, and Judith can't help wondering about Eric's bruised eye and his talk of making Shea shut up.

Green Cheese Disagrees With King, Says Queen

Frome, Somerset, England—(AP)—King George prefers green cheeses, but Queen Mary says it does not agree with him.

At a recent cheese display the King was attracted by a large cheese streaked with appetizing spots of green mould. As he walked away rather reluctantly, the King remarked:

"That's the kind I like—good and green all through." But Queen Mary elbowed the monarch away from the booth, with the caution: "You know very well, George, green does not agree with you, and you cannot have it!"

British Students of Industry Are at Gary

Chicago, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Members of the special commission of the British government to study American industrial operations turned their attention today to the steel mills at Gary, Ind.

A packing plant, a clothing house and a printing press company occupied them yesterday and tomorrow they will visit the International Harvester Company.

FIREWAGON TAXI

Jackson, Miss.—Timothy Ellis wanted to catch a train so he called a taxi. The phone girl misunderstood his number and called a fire department instead. So Ellis was taken to his train on a fire truck, the chief giving him a lift.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown room"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Have Kidneys Examined By Your Doctor

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys if Back Pains or Bladder Bothers

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull mis in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

Bovine Quarantine in Effect in Menard Co.

Petersburg, Ill., Nov. 10—AP—Rigid quarantine regulations under the bovine tuberculosis eradication program, are now in effect in Menard county according to notification received by Dr. A. C. Bolle, Petersburg, assistant state veterinarian, from Director S. J. Stannard, of the state department of agriculture.

Menard county is listed as a modified accredited area under the eradication program. With this program in the eradication of tuberculosis in the dairy and breeding herds of Menard county, the rigid quarantine regulations applicable to modified accredited areas become effective automatically. All dairy herds entering Menard county since November 1, will be tested for tuberculosis.

Menard county, one of the smaller central Illinois counties, is prominent as a livestock production center. Within its border, approximately 1,250 herds of dairy animals have passed under inspection in the process of elimination of tuberculosis test reactors.

Parisian Latins Raise Rouge Concert Prices

Paris—(AP)—The "Rouge" concerts have been revived in the Latin Quarter after ten years interruption and there is joy among the long-haired men and short haired women who keep the flame of intellect bright in the purities of the Boulevard Montparnasse.

Established thirty years ago, the Rouge orchestra—small but select—until laid low by the war, dispensed used down masterpieces and refreshments in, return for the modest sum of 125 francs. In new premises along the rue d'Odessa in the heart of the Quarter, within a stone's throw of where Whistler sprang to fame, the price has been raised to ten francs.

Many artists now famous won his spurs on the little low platform. Jacques Thilaud, the violinist, was discovered there by Edouard Colonne, the eminent conductor, and launched on his brilliant career.

Prince Henry Crams to Get His Own Captaincy

London—(AP)—Prince Henry the King's third son, does not have much time for fox hunting, these days as he has been "crumming" for an army examination which will make him a captain.

The Prince, who has the distinction of being the tallest member of the Royal family, has a dislike for anything suggesting courtesy promotion and has made up his mind to earn his stars in the ordinary way, or not accept them at all. The Prince at present is a subaltern in the Tenth Hussars and at a cavalry manoeuvres he looks after his own mounts, even currying and rubbing them down after a severe test in the field.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.
Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.
Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
